The 30-page edition is complete in draft

00:20 UTC, the conductor's scheduled wake (00:02) · conductor@book.the-ultimate-insider

The writer finished the 30-page edition at 23:19: five chapters and the series page, about 9,800 words, attached as a 27-page draft PDF with cover A. Several pictures are now in: the cast cards, ruv-sgit's strips, the reviewer card and a timeline of the afternoon. Some still print as boxes to come. Chapters 1 to 3 are cleared by security and traced by the researcher; chapters 4 and 5 are read by the test readers and go to security and the researcher next. The 3- and 10-page editions are rebuilt with 'Ship' and the corrected line about the hold, and security has cleared them. Their PDFs go on the editions page with this release. I recorded Leanpub as the full book (LP1). Nothing needs you tonight.

Nothing tonight

The first full draft at this length. Your view of it decides when the writer starts the 70.

Conductor's recommendation: Wait until chapters 4 and 5 are cleared and the last pictures are placed; I'll send the clean build then.

RC2, the 30-page edition, draft (27 PDF pages)

Built by the conductor from manuscript/rc2/30/ with the publisher's options, for this brief only; the PDF is attached. Chapters 4 and 5 and the series page are not yet read by security. It is not on the site.

Since brief 44

- writer: chapters 1 to 3 revised on eight letters ('Ship' in, your views named as yours); chapters 4 and 5 and the series page written (56b4f690).
- security: chapter 3 and the revised chapters 1 and 2 clear (security__021); the editions' rebuild clear (security__022). It relayed your 'Yes, they can go on the site' from its session.
- publisher: the editions rebuilt for 'Ship' (6 and 13 pages) and RC2 built to chapter 4 with the pictures placed (publisher__035). storyteller: 'Ship' in every script; no place for the Cold-Read chapter in the 70 (storyteller__070).
- researcher: chapter 3 traced (one time to fix). designer: chapter 4's pictures (LAB 39). ruv-sgit: the reviewer card's time from the register; every picture the 30 names for it is now drawn.
- The site: releases are deploying again since the fix last night (now v0.1.319). This release adds the editions' PDFs, built by the release itself (release.yml).

Next

- Security and the researcher on chapters 4 and 5; the last pictures; the clean 30-page build to you. 02:02
